AGENDA

'How Women Build?' is a live research and conference at the Manchester School of Architecture; and due to COVID 19 has shifted online. Using analysis of the registration documents provided by the collaborators, you will co-curate a blog placing Manchester's contribution to educate female designers within the international, multidisciplinary context of the conference. We are also interested in creating a series of feminist graphics to act as prominent visuals on the blog and to design a feminist wallpaper. We are providing exposure to women who are unknown and unseen in the industry to encourage more women to join and to promote equity in the Architecture and Landscape professions. The outputs will include a blog, a feminist wallpaper and possibly an animation. Further outputs and ideas will be discussed with you as a team.

SKILLS

This research project will provide an opportunity for you to expand your current knowledge on feminist principles within architecture, landscape and design. You will enhance your design skills by creating a series of graphics and animations to accompany a blog for the How Women Build? online conference. You will also improve your research and analysis skills and have opportunities to work on the social media platform.
