

MANCHESTER SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE

Active Axis is a cooperative of designers working alongside Life Leisure to develop a new community outdoor space on the Avondale Site. Life Leisure is a community interested company that focuses on providing accessible leisure and social activities to the local community across several sites. The aim of the venture is to create a multi functional outdoor learning space/ classroom which adapts and responds to the use and abilities of all members of the community: giving pride and ownership of the project to the community across all generations and abilities.
