STORY WORKS!

Located in the heart of the city's creative and industrial sectors, Story Works strives to support writers, publishers and literary enthusiasts through a collaboration with Manchester's City of Literature charity. The cohesive layout within Campfield House shifts throughout the day, from morning writing use, daytime public access and potential events to be hosted in the evenings. Key features our design incorporates include the space's accessibility and adaptability. This project will serve as a Literature House for Manchester, a city recognised by UNESCO for its rich literary heritage, and endeavours to further foster the expression of future generations.
